

Dr. Kari Koshiol (she/her/hers)

Senior Project Manager & National Speaker

SUGGESTED INTRODUCTION

Dr. Kari Koshiol holds a PhD in Curriculum, Instruction, and the Science of Learning from the University at Buffalo–SUNY. A former high school English teacher, Kari focuses her research on belonging and autonomy in education. As Springtide’s Senior Project Manager, she supports a wide variety of clients and projects. Kari is also a National Speaker for Springtide, which gives her the opportunity to feel like she is back in the classroom. She especially enjoys working with audiences that are interested in how Springtide’s research can help students, teachers, administrators, and all those connected to education.
