

Steven Ellair

National Speaker

SUGGESTED INTRODUCTION

Steven Ellair has a special passion for bringing faith and meaning to life for young people. He has been involved in religious education for over 30 years and has served as a Catholic school teacher, parish catechist, youth minister, and Archdiocesan educational consultant. Steven has been speaking at national events, webinars, and conferences for over 20 years, including the Los Angeles Religious Education Congress. For the past 18 years, Steven has found his home in Catholic publishing and currently serves as the editorial director at Saint Mary's Press and a national speaker for Springtide Research Institute.